Gunna ..

The sword is a pen it cuts with words like a knife ..
if you are ever the end of it you know you are in strife. ..
the pen is a sword a serpentine arrow mated for life
the answer is in the lady swan they call her his wife

See Gunna way too much war in you .. thy only battle is with thyself son ..no thrusting swords into hearts on the field this time ..it's all about rectificando

Queenswords ..Queens Words Gunna

oh Gunna

If I was that child I would cringe ..and I am ..

as a pure being war is something tainted ..

an oft unnecessary and pain in the ass ..oh we have too many boys in the world ..let's do a cull ..how about a war .. that will make a few mumnas sad

And you talk war on one hand and beg for the child from the other .. you will not see the child because your heart has war in it

What is needed is advanced prater humans to lead the children into tomorrow by standing behind them protecting encouraging and inspiring them

Not placing fear and war and horror onto the innocent

Navigation grace acceptance ability to admit wrong ability to understand that averting war is where heroes stand ... Protecting all that is born before wanting more to fight wars

That time has come and gone as we move into tomorrow man must admit the mistakes he has made before stepping thru that door to tomorrow .. without that knowledge of man's debt to mother

And that doorway will not be found until the heart is pure as she is never to be found

And your protection is weak there is none you are so open to corruption for your greed and need for war .. you can be exploited you are open to that clip clop .. because you have that deficit of lust of war it can be used by anyone with power or that think they have power ..

Why are you so full on war ??.."build the war machine" is to build yourself above war
