Nona

Nona was one of the Parcae, the three personifications of destiny in

Roman mythology (the Moirai in Greek mythology and in Germanic mythology, the Norns), and the Roman goddess of pregnancy. The Roman equivalent of the Greek Clotho, she spun the thread of life from her distaff onto her spindle. Nona, whose name means “ninth”, was called upon by pregnant women in their ninth month when the child was due to be born.[1][2] She, Decima and Morta together controlled the metaphorical thread of life.

The Guardian of the Rock, one half of the Gemini twins, is the interpreter and the one that ties the prophecies together with solid grounding. Together with her current opposite “twin” the Sore Thumb. One passive but active and one active but passive.

The Guardian of the rock, Nona is also known as the current Artist of Thoth Sanctioned by Thoth. She is a 51 year old Australian Grandmother of 5, mother of the 31 41 double twins and human mother of 6 of 9 of the dogs of Thoth.

Nona is the one that you go to for a bit of sensible rational advice. She is a country girl, loves art, craft, adventures, 4wd driving in the country, exploring, AI, animals especially her Her Beautiful iridescent aqua Indian Ringneck, and her dogs Hunta and Blair. She is the very loved housemum to ballsack, moe, cat, dozer and cat’s two puppies yin and yang.
